Background

Pathfinder International is working in collaboration with Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (MOHFW) to build the responsiveness of the health care system and improve the health and human capital of Bangladeshis by increasing the use of family planning (FP) services through universal health coverage through the USAID Accelerating Universal Access to Family Planning (AUAFP)/Shukhi Jibon project. The project supports producing and deploying skilled, responsive, and respectful FP providers; strengthens the delivery of quality FP services, especially for adolescents and youth, and postpartum women; and works with communities to transform norms around the use of family planning information and services. With a mandate to support the GOB to reach its FP objectives, Shukhi Jibon works closely with its MOHFW counterparts. Shukhi Jibon contributes to USAID Bangladesh's Country Development Cooperation Strategy (CDCS), specifically Strategic Objective 3: Health Status Improved. The goal of Shukhi Jibon is to contribute to the improved health and human capital in Bangladesh. The project deploys adaptive, needs-driven technical assistance (TA) and systems strengthening at the national, divisional, and district levels.

Scope of Work (SOW)

Sexual Reproductive Health service delivery for adolescents in Bangladesh is multifaceted and commonly constitutes two components, namely awareness raising and service delivery. Both approaches and their subcomponents have their own implementation challenges. Often to quench the queries, young people turn to their peer network and non-formal sources for information. Recognizing the need for information, preference for privacy and confidentiality, and stigma in accessing services at the facilities, Shukhi Jibon is investing in information and communication technology to improve the accessibility of SRH information and services for young clients.

Shukhi Jibon, a flagship project funded by USAID and implemented by Pathfinder International and its partners, recognizes that young people, particularly the unmarried face a high level of discrimination and stigma. It is working closely with government stakeholders, youth organizations, public and religious educational institutes, community leaders, and the communities to overcome the barriers and help the young to maintain SRH in an informed way. To overcome the challenges to access to information, and to facilitate learning, Shukhi Jibon is also investing into the use of age-appropriate communication technology to reach young people while maintaining privacy and confidentiality. In line of the Digital Health Approach adopted by the project, Shukhi Jibon working to develop digital resources for the adolescents and youth and is exploring ways to engage teachers in facilitating the digital health intervention.
